ROCK PLANT SPECIALISTS

Camp St. Ext. — Barre, Vermont

Imagine hundreds of varieties of plants, natives from every part of the world, Europe's beloved Alps and Pyrenees, the forbidding Himalayas of the Orient, Siberia's vast tundras, our own Rockies and Northeastern cliffs, all being grown in a nook of Vermont's Green Mountains and then finding their way into successful gardens all over America. Indeed that is what is happening here at Sky-Cleft Gardens.

And as successors to the James Mitchell Nurseries Rare Rock Plant Collection we are continuing the famous rootstock and high standards of a pioneer in rock gardening.

Add to alpine and wildflowers an extensive selection of taller perennials so effective for color masses or showy bouquets plus the charm of ferns and old time herb plants and the scene is complete.

On a high, rich field running into a maple wood with a vista of hills in the distance, our painstaking, enchanting work continues to expand over both a larger area of land and in variety and interest.

I am grateful for the enthusiasm of an increasing number of you, repeated orders from original customers, visitors from many states at the nursery, and trial orders from newcomers. It is my hope that this catalog will help you to enjoy gardening more fully during the coming year.

Donald Allen,
Proprietor and nurseryman
